GREEKS HOLDING ITALIANS IN CHECK

MOUNTAIN FORCES OF INVADED NATION DRIVE INTO ALBANIA

ITALIANS ADMIT THAT FASCIST TROOPS MEETING STIFF RESISTANCE

(By The Associated Press.)

Dispatches from the Greek - Yugoslav frontier late today said Italian troops had launched a heavy attack on the southwest Epirus front, but had failed to regain any positions captured earlier by counter-attacking Greek forces.

The Greeks were reported to have penetrated into Italian-held Albania at both ends of the 100-mile front.

By The Associated Press

Fighting over snow-blanketed mountains, Greek Alpine troops were reported to have driven seven miles into Italian held Albania today, ringing the fascist supply base at Koritza and capturing 1,200 Italian prisoners.

Pro-axis Spain, in a possible forerunner to an attack on Britain's rock bastion of Gibraltar, seized absolute control of the so called Tangier "international zone" on the north coast of Africa—southwest of Gibraltar.

Vitally important in the European war front, the Tangier zone commands the Atlantic approach to the Mediterranean sea.

If placed at the disposal of the Rome-Berlin axis as a naval base, the one might play a decisive role in any axis plan to bottle up the British Mediterranean fleet and end British control of the waters which Italians call "Mare Nostrum—our sea."

In further support of the eight-day-old Greek defense, the British were reported preparing to send three army divisions about 45,000 troops, to combat the Italian invasion.

British and Greek warplanes inflicted heavy casualties, dispatches said, in low-flying attacks on Italian troops massed along the Greek-Albanian border.

A British broadcast said RAF raiders, accompanied by Greek planes, also attacked the Albanian capital, Tirana, and partly destroyed the palace of former King Zog, now being used as an Italian military headquarters.

Dispatches from Yugoslavia said the fall of Koritza, in the northern sector of the 100-mile Balkan war front, was "expected momentarily."

In the southern sector, Greek defenders were said to have repulsed Italian columns in fierce hand-to-hand fighting with bayonets and grenades.

The Greek high command said a heavy Italian attack in the mountains of Epirus province, preceded by 15 consecutive bombing forays against Greek defense positions, had been routed with the destruction of nine fascist tanks.

Unofficial reports from Athens said the Greeks had taken the offensive in the southern sector in the last 48 hours and were advancing at some points into Albanian territory.

Stefani, the official Italian news agency, acknowledged that Premier Mussolini's legions were meeting stiff Greek resistance in the

Two Killed, Five Injured In Truck And Auto Crash

AMARILLO, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Nelda Bowman of Amarillo was instantly killed and Tommy Costen of Amarillo was fatally injured in a two car and one truck collision 13 miles south of Canyon about midnight last night. Costen died early this morning in a Canyon hospital. Five others were injured, none of them critically, although Mrs. Opal Tidwell of Amarillo is receiving hospital treatment. Officers said the two cars, one towing the other, and the truck were so tangled in the crash that it was impossible to reconstruct the accident and it was difficult to remove the victims.

Nine Burned By Gas Fire.

WACO, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Nine gas company employes, burned yesterday when a spark ignited a gas line on which they were working, were recovering today. The accident occurred at Abbott.

LONDON EXPERIENCES ALMOST 22 HOURS OF FREEDOM FROM RAIDS

ALARM CAME AGAIN, HOWEVER, LATE IN DAY AS AIRCRAFT GUNS, BOMBS HEARD

LONDON, Nov. 4.—(AP) Londoners heard the scream of air raid sirens, the bark of anti-aircraft fire and the explosive thud of bombs late this afternoon after an interlude in the Nazi aerial siege lasting almost 24 hours.

Throughout last night there was quiet. It lasted through most of the day, but at tea time an uproar broke the unaccustomed silence and a single raider swooped into the metropolitan area, dropping several bombs.

The Sunday night of quiet was the first London had enjoyed since Sept. 7. There were reports of Nazi activity over East Anglia this morning.

Some raiders roared over the city yesterday, but the all-clear which ended the last daylight raid sounded at the time the night assaults usually begin. The only attacks during the night, the government said, were in northeastern England and eastern Scotland.

A German raider approaching an east Anglian town after sun-up today dropped a salvo of bombs and fled through heavy anti-aircraft fire.

Bad weather which the British credited with keeping most raiders on the other side of the English channel during the night continued today. Rain and mist shrouded the Strait of Dover and visibility was limited.

One group of German raiders attacked an East Scotland town early today, the government said, and high explosive bombs "demolished some tenement houses and a small number of people was killed and injured."

For the first time since the air siege of Britain began, the attackers used "hedge-hopping" tactics yesterday, swooping low to machine-gun Sunday strollers, cyclists, motorists and buses in East Anglian towns.

UNUSUALLY BIG VOTE EXPECTED POLLED IN TUESDAY'S ELECTION

WRITE-IN CAMPANGN INDICATED RACE FOR COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE

Final details incident to the general election Tuesday, Nov. 5, were made Monday by election officials. Indications were that the balloting will be heavier than in the 1936 presidential election, as the torrid race and unusual bid for votes between the Democratic and Republican forces ends. With huge sums spent and with many thousands of workers and speakers busy, one of the memorable races will be determined Tuesday night. The Corsicana Daily Sun will tabulate returns from the boxes in Navarro County Tuesday night. Election officials have been requested by Paul H. Hiller, county judge, to telephone the results to the Sun as soon as possible after the count has been completed.

Write In Campaign.

Another angle that has injected considerable interest locally and throughout Texas is the action of J. E. McDonald, agriculture commissiloer of Texas, nominated last summer to his sixth term, in announcing his support to the Republican national nominees. A flood of criticism immediately swept over Texas and a well-defined campaign has been inaugurated for a write-in campaign, proposing the scratching of McDonald's name and writing in W. N. Corry the runner-up in the state primary last summer. The lead in this campaign was taken by Ellis county officials and Navarro County officials and Democrats are working diligently for Corry.

Four Amendments.

Four amendments to the Constitution of Texas also will appear on the ballot containing the Democratic, Republican Socialist, Communist and Prohibition electors.

One of the amendments is to authorize the Legislature to pass a law allowing direct appeal to the Supreme Court in cases involving injunctions granted or denied on the grounds of constitutionality or unconstitutionality of any statute or on validity or invalidity of administrative orders.

Another Amendment proposed is to provide that notaries public be appointed by the Secretary of State of Texas.

Removal of municipal appointments term limitation, an amendment, from the two-year term requirement for offices not provided for in the Constitution where the civil service requirements are met and fostered in the larger cities.

The Red River County Tax amendment is to provide that the commissioners court of that county, after a majority vote of the resident qualified electors owning taxable property therein, authorized a levy not to exceed 25 cents for a period not exceeding fifteen years to refund outstanding general fund debts by the issuance of bonds.

Local Voting Places.

Voting in Corsicana Tuesday will be held at the following sites:

Ward 1. L. W. Morris, presiding judge, David Crockett School.

Ward 2. L. W. Ashmore, presiding judge, Wm B. Travis School cafeteria.

Ward 3. George W. Boyd, presiding judge, courthouse.

Ward 4. J. D. Carroll, presiding judge City Hall.

The forty-four precincts outside the city of Corsicana will vote at their customary places.

The polls open at 8 a. m. and will close at 7 p. m.

Election judges have requested that the electorate bring their poll tax receipts with them, as this will expedite the handling of the election.

Election supplies were delivered the authorities from the county clerk's office during the week-end.

SHALLOW PRODUCTION BE SOUGHT ON TRACT IN ANGUS SECTOR

Shallow production will be sought on the Lacy Rice tract near Angus on a 143-acre lease in the John McNeal survey five miles southwest of Corsicana, T. H. Westbrook, local driller and operator, announced Monday. A rotary rig was moved on location Monday.

The test will be to the Corsicana sand which is expected to be found about the 1500-foot level, but Westbrook stated the well would probably be drilled to 2000 feet unless pay sand is found at a higher level. The test will be know as the Lacy Rice No. 1.

MISSING AIRLINER WITH TEN ABROAD IS FOUND IN MOUNTAINS

PLANE REPORTED APPARENTLY IN FAIR CONDITION; FATE PASSENGERS UNKNOWN

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Ten persons aboard a storm-battered transport which crashed into Bountiful Peak before dawn apparently were killed, aerial observers reported late today.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 4.—(AP)—A missing United Airlines plane with 10 oboard was located today on the ground in the mountain country north of Centerville, Utah.

Centerville rests at the foot of the towering Wasatch mountains.

The plane was sighted by searching fliers.

They radioed to the Salt Lake City airport that the plane did not appear to be in bad condition, the pilot, Captain Howard Fey, apparently having attempted a forced landing.

The transport disappeared early this morning during a driving snowstorm.

Ground parties started for the scene, which was described only approrimately six miles east and two miles north of Centerville, which is 10 miles north of Salt Lake City.

William Haws, United Airlines flier who "spotted" the grounded plane, said low hanging clouds obscured his vision. He was unable

INTERNAL SQUABBLES IN TEXAS DEMOCRACY AS ELECTION NEARS

FIGHT ON M'DONALD AND NO-THIRD TERMERS EXPECTED PRODUCE RECORD VOTE

AUSTIN, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Marked by internal party squabbles, the general election campaign in Texas, closing today, whipped up unusual interest in tomorrow's voting.

Normally democratic by a heavy margin, party leaders claimed Texas would land in the democratic column as it always has with one exception since the Civil War.

Keen attention focused on the "write-in" fight against J. E. McDonald, democratic nominee for commissioner of agriculture who endorsed the Willkie-McNary ticket.

Sharing interest were the efforts of no-third-term democrats and Willkie democrats, more active in campaigning for the republican party itself.

Democratic claims spurred hectic campaigning by the no-third term group who centered their work in thickly populated centers and blanketed the state with radio appeals.

The candidates opposing McDonald, W. N. (Bill) Corry of Kellar and Tom Martin of Johnson City, plugged away with appeals to penalize the commisisoner for his

POPULACE OF ROME ALARMED BY AIRRAID SIGNALS MONDAY

ITALIAN HIGH COMMAND REPORTS FASCIST DRIVE INTO GREECE CONTINUES

ROME, Nov. 4.—(AP)—British bombers caused Rome's first air raid alarm since July 24 early today as they carried the air war to Naples for the second time in four nights, but officials said they failed to reach the capital.

Rome's populace was awakened by the alarm at 3:45 a. m. (7:45 p. m. CST Sunday) and held under the alert for an hour and 45 minutes.

The high command said the fliers who tried to bomb Naples were met "by a barrage of antiaircraft fire" which forced them to drop their missiles in open country.

The bombs were said to have killed one person and injured three.

The Italian high command reported the fascist drive into Greece was continuing beyond Kalabaki on the road to Ioannina in northwestern Greece.

The attack was supported by bomber blows at defense positions along the Kalibaki-Ioannina road, it said.

Other bombers raided the Greek Aegean port of Salonika and the Citadel on the Island of Corfu.

One plane was reported lost.

A communique said five Greek planes were shot doyn in an air fight Saturday over Salonika, besides a sixth plane previously reported down.

African Campaign.

Continued activity was reported on the land and in the air in the African campaign.

"In north Africa," the communique said, "one of our fast columns put enemy armored cars to flight.

"In East Africa enemy attacks against our forces occupying Mount Sciusceib, near Kassala, were repelled."

British fliers bombed Assab, in East Africa, killing three persons and causing some damage to the city, and attacked Italian troops at Garn El Grien northeast of Jarabub in north Africa, the high command added.

Stefani, official Italian news agency, acknowledged today that Italian troops were meeting stiff Greek resistance in the Ioannina region.

It would be "ridiculous," however, to believe the Greeks could hold out indefinitely, one of the agency's war correspondents said.

He described the Greek army as armed with British and French artillery, rifles, ammunition and airplanes of various types.

SEEKING LOCATION FOR ESTABLISHMENT AIRPLANE FACTORY

Leopold H. P. Klot and Robert D. Clampett, officials of the Luscombe Airplane Corporation of West Trenton, N. J., were in Corsicana Monday inspecting possible locations for an airplane factory and training school in the vicinity of the city.

They made the trip in one of their own planes, landing at a private airport, and were met by a group from the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce who accompanied them on their tour of inspection.

DRESDEN RESIDENT FATALLY INJURED HIGHWAY ACCIDENT

KERENS NEGRO HELD IN CONNECTION WITH DEATH OF OSCAR J. GRIFFIN

Oscar J. Griffin, aged 65 years, is dead and R. G. (Fats) McCoy, negro, of Kerens is charged by complaint with failure to stop and render aid as a result of an automobile accident near Powell Sunday morning about 5 o'clock. Griffin, a resident of the Desden community, died at the P. and S. Hospital Sunday morning at 9:40 o'clock. He was rushed to the hospital in a Corley ambulance.

Seton T. Holsey, assistant criminal district attorney, stated Monday morning that the complaint was accepted at the criminal district attorney's office Sunday and was filed in justice court at Kerens before Judge T. A. Crowley.

Holsey said statements were taken from six Kerens negroes, alleged occupants of the automobile said to have struck Griffin.

Griffin and Tom York, also of Dresden, were reported by officers to have been walking along Highway 31 pavement at the time of the accident. The handle of an automobile, which officers said inflicted the fatal injuries, was reported found at the site of the accident.

Griffin's death was the fifth of 1940 in Navarro county from automobile accidents.

Funeral services for Griffin were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Dresden church with interment in the Dresden cemetery. The rites were conducted by Rev. Robert Williams, pastor of the Central Baptist church of Blooming Grove.

Surviving are his wife, Dresden; three daughters, Mrs. Pearl Compton, Blooming Grove; Mrs. Kathleen Norris and Mrs. Ina Rebecca Tatum, both of Dresden; seven sons, Jim Griffin, Silver City; Lace, Roy, Everett and Thomas Griffin, all of Blooming Grove; Leo Griffin, Arizona, and Alfred Griffin, San Antonio; a brother, T. A. Griffin, Odessa; three sisters, Mrs. Mae Houston, Mrs. Henry Caldwell and Mrs. Edna Smith, all of Dresden: and a number of grandchildren and other relatives.

Corley Funeral Home prepared the body for burial while the McCormick Funeral Service of Blooming Grove directed the funeral arrangements.

Sheriff Cap Curington and Deputy Sheriff Jeff Spencer inaugurated an investigation into the case immediately after the accident was reported.

Sheriff Curington stated Monday that the search led to Kerens where a red 1934 Chevrolet automobile was found. The sheriff reported that a negro was washing blood from the car when the officers arrived, but McCoy had gone hunting. He was arrested on his return.

State Highway Patrolmen also were investigating the case.

The victim was reported fatally injured when the car handle caught him in the body. Paint from a red car was found on a button missing from Griffin's clothing, highway patrolmen reported.

The case will be presented the Navarro county grand jury when it reconvenes Tuesday, Nov. 19.

THOUSANDS OF LOCAL DRAFT UNITS START WORK THIS WEEK

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The thousands of local units which make up the nation's great selective service machine start to work this week on the actual task of picking the first 800,000 physically fit young men who can be spared from civilian life for a year's training in the army.

Given a limited initial assignment, local selection boards undertook the job of filing the army's first requisition calling for 30,000 men to report between Nov. 18 and Dec. 1.

The initial assignment will put the boards on their mettle, for it allows only two weeks before the pioneer groups of rookies are due at specified army induction centers. Subsequent requisitions will affect larger contingents of men, until by next June 15, the entire 800,000 are expected to be in camp.

Selective Service Director Clarence A. Dykstra estimated the last of the local boards would receive not later than today its copies of the "master list" of order numbers.

Once a board has its list, it can start mailing out the questionnaires which will develop the information determining the eligibility of the registrants for service.

RECORD-SMASHING REGISTRATIONS OF VOTERS ANNOUNCED

WITH SIXTY MILLION ELIGIBLE 50,000,000 ARE EXPECTED TO CAST BALLOTS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Record - smashing registrations which may qualify more than 60,000,000 persons to vote tomorrow have the politicians guessing as to how these new voters will mark their ballots.

Allowing for the same ratio of stay-at-homes as in former general elections, it is estimated that roughly 50,000,000 may cast votes tomorrow. In round numbers, 45,000,000 out of 55,000,000 eligibles voted in 1936, when President Roosevelt had a plurality of almost 11,000,000.

What party leaders won't know for sure until after the ballots are counted is why registrations are breaking all-time records in the large cities and even in many smaller towns. All down the line, but particularly in New York, Pennsylvania, and California, voters in increasing numbers have signified their intention of exercising their historic right.

Normal population gains and more persons reaching voting age explain the increases in some instances, but the intensity of the campaign and unusual interst in issues appear to account for others.

For example, women voters are responsible for approximately 45 per cent of the 3,399,741 registered in New York City, where the total registration is up 488,557 over 1936.

Upstate New York, normally Republican, has 3,571,376 registrants, a 253,266 gain over four years ago. The state as a whole has registered 6,960,117, an increase of 741,783 over 1936.

Pennsylvania's final registration figures were announced as 5,220,667, almost half the population of the state. Republicans registered numbered 2,787,450, Democrats 2,165,723; other parties 67,494.

California's official registration is 4,052,395, including 2,419,625 Democrats and 1,458,373 Republicans.

TUMULT OF RIVAL CLAIMS MARK END OF HECTIC BATTLE

BOTH ROOSEVELT AND WILLKIE WILL BROADCAST FINAL APPEALS TONIGHT

(By The Associated Press.)

The turbulent 1940 presidential campaign came to the end of the trail today amid a tumult of rival claims, political oratory and urgent, last-minute appeals for votes.

The crowded closing hours held little in keeping with the old tradition of a quiet election eve. Apart from the final messages which President Roosevelt and Wendell L. Willkie were to make to the electorate, both democratic and republican parties mashalled speakers for a series of eleventh hour broadsides.

Mr. Roosevelt, back in New York where he will receive the returns tomorrow night at his Hyde Park home, set aside his day for campaigning among his Hudson Valley neighbors, very much as he did on the eve of the 1936 election.

His final message to the electorate will highlight the two hour nationwide radio program (NBC, CBS, MBC from 9 p.m. to 11 p.m. C.S.T.) arranged by the democratic national committee. Mr. Roosevelt will speak from Hyde Park shortly after 10 p.m. (CST). Henry A. Wallace, his partner on the ticket, also will make a final address.

At first it was thought Mr. Roosevelt might use the occasion for another major political address, but this belief was discounted after his assertion at Cleveland Saturday that he was then making his "final national address of the campaign." Present expectations were that he would simply urge all eligible voters to exercise their franchise tomorrow.

Willkie on Air Thrice

Willkie, winding up his strenuous, marathon campaign, had three radio speaking engagements on his election eve schedule. The first was his closing speech to the women of America (CSB 2:15 p.m.) Then he will take to the air again (CBS 9:15 p.m.) with Senator McNary of Oregon, his running mate, and return to the networks for his last word in an hour long program (over all major chains) ending at midnight (CST).

Aides said the subject matter of Willie's final addresses might depend on what democratic orators had to say previously, or on other developments. For the most part, however, the republican nominee was looking forward to a comparatively quiet day.

Election eve found no dearth of the usual contradictory forecasts of victory. Although record-breaking registrations, cross-currents and the like made for unusual uncertainty, predictions were as confident as ever.

Democratic National Chairman Flynn first predicted a minimum

WAR HAS APPARENTLY PASSED STAGE WHERE AGREEMENT PEACE POSSIBLE; TOTAL DEFEAT DUE

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer.

Reports in Washington and London that Herr Hitler is preparing a fresh peace offensive may be apocryphal (Berlin denies them) but still are important as emphasizing that the war has passed the possibility of peace by agreement, barring some strange and wholly unexpected development.

Hard as it is to say, it's difficult to see how the conflict can be settled excepting by the total defeat of one side or the other. Europe just isn't big enough to hold both Adolf Hitler and Britain.

Should it prove to be true that the fuehrer is indeed preparing peace terms it would, of course, be significant as indicating that he no longer feels confident he can smash England.

Reported terms provide that "the British empire undefeated and unconquered," should remain as it is. Europe, "being conquered by Germany," should be regarded as outside England's sphere of influence.

That would be a grand bargain for the Nazi leader. However, even if John Bull were willing to forego his oath to free his allies from German subjugation, he would seem to me to be inviting disaster

RESULT ELECTION ON COMPLEXION HOUSE BIG QUESTION MARK

DEMOCRATIC MAJORITY IN SENATE IS FELT TO BE SAFE; SAME CLAIMED IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The big question mark hanging over the senate and house elections tomorrow is:

Will the democrats retain control of the house or will the republicans take it over for the first time since 1929?

Both parties claimed to know the right answer.

Rep. Drewry of Virginia, chairman of the house democratic campaign committee, predicted today there would be "very little net change" in the house membership. Claiming a possible net gain as high as 15 seats, he asserted house democrats would come out of the election with an "absolute safe majority."

On the other hand, Rep. Mar-

ASSOCIATED PRESS WILL GIVE DETAILED RESULTS OF ELECTION AS RAPIDLY AS VOTE IS COUNTED

(Editor's Note: The Daily Sun will receive the detailed results of the national election tomorrow as rapidly as the ballots are counted throughout the country, through the vast election organization of The Associated Press. How that biggest of news stories will be covered is explained in this article.)

(By The Associated Press.)

Preparations are complete throughout the United States for the gigantic operation of almost instantaneous reporting of the count of some 50,000,000 votes to be cast in tomorrow's national election.

The Associated Press, Mutual, non-partisan association of 1,400 newspapers, and world's largest news service, began making preparations months ago for collecting, tabulating and reporting the hughest vote ever to be cast in the history of democratic government.

It will bring into use as soon as polls begin to close an organization of 65,000 men and women—reporters, editors, messengers, tabulators. Its system of 285,000 miles of leased wires, forming a huge web over the country, together with batteries of special telephones and complex calculating machines in its offices throughout the country, will swing into the job of reporting the election.

GREEKS CONTINUE SUCCESSES AGAINST INVADING ITALIANS

FIERCE HAND-HAND FIGHTING REPORTED AND CHAIN OF HILLS CAPTURED

ATHENS, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Greek troops, holding off Italian attacks in Epirus in fierce hand to hand fighting, were reported today to have won a second chain of hills in a counter drive into Albania to cut off the Italian supply route through Koritza.

The Greek high command said a strong Italian thrust against the Greek left flank in the mountains of Epirus was repulsed with grenades and bayonet fighting.

Artillery roared from both sides of the battleline. The Greeks claimed they destroyed nine of the tanks which supported the fascist onslaught.

A Greek communique said the Italian air force smashed at the

FREEDOM'S LAST STAND

Speaking of the courage and perseverance of the British people "under appalling attack," President Roosevelt said to the Herald-Tribune Forum:

"Their homes and their schools, their churches and their national shrines, are being destroyed. But there is one mighty structure more enduring than marble, more precious than all that man has built, and that is the structure of the democratic state."

Yes, this is precious—and we hope it is enduring. Democracies have been tumbling down lately like building blocks, especially those western democracies of Europe. How many such systems are still functioning in the world, outside of this hemisphere? With France wrecked, are there any left in Europe except Finland and Switzerland? Are there any at all in Asia or Africa or elsewhere, except the British dominions?

Ancient Israel seems to have been a democracy, but it soon ended in monarchy. Modern democracy arose in ancient Greece, and even the word itself is Greek, but it soon ended in dictatorship. Our modern Pan-American republics are called democratic, but mostly lack popular government of the British-American type.

So personal and political freedom grows scarcer and more precious, while tyranny and human slavery return to a world supposedly rid of them. If Britain went down, liberty would make its last stand in the United States.

ROMANTIC ROAD.

Burma Road continues to have romantic appeal, as those thousands of American trucks coming up from Mandalay continue their long, slow crawl through the barren mountains, bringing their precious freight to the Chinese army. It gives our people an illusion of being themselves at the back of beyond, helping in a picturesque crusade to save a friendly nation.

There is something there, too, besides romance. It is a vast and continuous road-building job, because the dirt highway is always being washed out or blown up, and an army of coolies is always at work making repairs.

They ought to have some regular American road-building machinery there, with American engineers in charge of it, busied first with keeping the road open and then with laying a durable foundation, surfacing it and improving the culverts and bridges.

The ancient Romans, some of whose trunk roads still remain in England, were up to such jobs, but they worked slowly, cutting and fitting big stone blocks for a roadbed. American engineers would move their huge machinery along pouring continuous layers of concrete. And a great sight it would be for the spirit of old Marco Polo, who once hoofed from Italy to China along that road.

ADVICE TO HER.

Here's how to get along with him:
Make light of much that's wrong
with him,
Make jest of all his foolish ways
His notions and his airs;
Make light of every cranky whim
And all that is a part of him,
But do not make too much ado
About the stuff he wears.
Remember when his faults appear
And that they'll do before the year
Is ended, and the honeymoon
Has waned to rise no more,
That every fellow worth his salt
Possesses many a grievous falt
And has a lot of silliness
Which women folks abhor.
From his perfection don't expect,
Make light of what you can't correct
Belittle what you can't improve
And of his virtues brag,
All men are silly more or less
And born to downright foolishness,
Nor will it better him one bit
If you become a nag.

CHILDREN'S WAR FEAR

At one of the stops along their route to training camp a National Guard group paraded, partly for exercise, partly for the benefit of local citizens. Most small boys like military parades—or used to. But at the end of this one a six-year-old with a troubled face approached the commander and asked anxiously, "Are they going to have the war here?"

The officer understood and answered kindly. He put his big hand on the small shoulders and said, "No, son we're not going to have the war here."

The story makes some people wonder whether there are not many children in the United States whose hearts are troubled by the pictures they have been seeing from their babyhood of refugees in China and Ethopia and Spain and Europe. It is quite outside their experience and so their elders think they cannot imagine what it's all about or be disturbed by it. But many children study those pictures of haggard youngsters. They know that homes have been blown to pieces, families separated and so on, and they are both sorrowful and frightened.

Let's be careful not to scare our youngsters with war talk. And let's turn some of their anxiety into constructive channels of sympathy and helpfulness. Let them contribute to funds to make other children more comfortable. Let them give some of their toys or picture books or clothing for needy children both here in America and in other parts of the world.

AMERICAN HOODLUMS

Educators and parents and law enforcement officers are acutely aware of growing hoodlumism and a general disrespect for law in the United States. They are asking themselves why hoodlums develop and how young folk can be directed into activities which enable them to express their natural exuberance without getting into serious mischief. Old-fashioned discipline has been suggested for both the home and school. The churches are seeking the role they should play in the situation.

A speaker at a bar association meeting recently gave a different slant to the problem. Much of the growing disrespect for law, he said, was due to the fact that there were too many "foolish" laws on the statute books. He thought laws should be less lightly and numerously enacted. He also urged more dignity in the legal profession, adding that courage and character were more important in creating dignity and inspiring popular respect for law than were robes for judges or other outward trappings of justice.

It is well to have Americans in many different walks of life and professions giving this matter serious thought. It might also be put up to the young hoodlums themselves. A discussion of how they got that way and how they think they might be made to prefer a different way should be enlightening.

One Injured; Some Property Damage Hallowe'en Night

One accident and considerable damage to street lights were the only factors marring the celebration of Hallowe'en in Corsicana Thursday night and city officers reported that the town as a whole enjoyed one of its quietest celebrations.

Miss Eloise Herod was treated at a physician's office for an eye injury inflicted by a fragment of a dry pumpkin rind thrown into her automoble on West Second avenue. A stitch was taken in the eyeball but the injury is not expected to impair her eyesight.

Police reported that three street lights were broken by the celebrants and that the court house lawn was littered with various signs and billboards. Some of the local business establishments were splotched with paint, and trash containers, logs, and broken branches of trees were scattered over all the main thoroughfares in the residential section. However, no serious outbreak of vandalism was noted

The business district, focal point of the celebrants, experienced an unusually quiet evening, with the activities being limited to the parading of costumed merrymakers. Fireworks were used only occasionally to add zest to the celebrations.

Hayes, to pay $30 per month toward the trapper contract, was lost because a majority of the court refused to vote on the measure.

Dr. O. C. Bowmer appeared before the court and discussed needs of additional room for patients in the P. and S. Hospital. 21 Men Volunteer Military Service Local Draft Boards

Twenty-one men had volunteered for immediate service in the armed forces of the United States at the two Navarro county draft boards, and officials indicated more applications were expected during the day.

Draft Board One reported ten persons had volunteered, while Draft Board Two listed a total of eleven. Questionnaires had been issued in most cases, and it was pointed out the volunteers would have to be classified the same as other men in the procedure and recommendations of the board would likely determine whether or not they would be accepted immediately.

Both of the boards are expecting their copies of the master list of the national lottery over the week-end and perhaps further details of the quotas for the first call expected about the middle of November.

SCARLET FEVERS IS STILL BIG MENACE TO SCHOOL CHILDREN

DISEASE INCREASES HEAVILY AFTER SCHOOLS RESUME SESSIONS

AUSTIN, Nov. 1,—(Special).—Prevalence of scarlet fever in Texas during October has increased 93.9 per cent over September's total cases, according to reports reahcing the Texas State Department fo Health.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, points out that this is a characteristic seasonal rise in prevalence, as the number of scarlet fever cases inreases simultaneously with the opening of shool and remains more or less constant during the school year, and recedes in marked fashion during the summer vacation.

"Scarlet fever continues to be a menace to children" Dr. Cox said. "Many cases are slight, but they may infect others who will become seriously ill. Even the mild cases may be dangerous, as post-disease complications may be severe.

"Children between the ages of five and ten years are most susceptable to scarlet fever—cases are more virulent and more deaths occur in this age group than any other. Therefore, the younger the child is, the more dangerous are the complications and the greater the likelihood that the disease will run a severe course.

"The incubation period (time between exposure to the germs and manifestation of the first symptoms) may be from one to seven days, usually from two to four. The first symptoms are headache, sore throat, vomiting fever. With very young children, the attack may begin with convulsions and a sudden high fever. Twenty-four to forty-eight hours after the original symptoms the rash begins to appear and in two more days increases in brightness until it becomes a vivid scarlet, and covers the entire body. Symptoms which may indicate scarlet fever demand immediate medical attention and quarantine to prevent the spread of the disease. Appearance of scarlet fever in the home should be followed immediately by a rigid quarantine for at least three weeks.

"The public should be warned against exposing young children to those exhibiting acute catarrhal symptoms of any kind. Take no chances, for scarlet fever is spread by the transfer of the infection in discharges of nose and throat, ears or abcesses of persons ill with the disease and those who are carriers of the infection."

Ioannina (Janina) region at the southwest end of the front.

A Stefani war correspondent reported that the Italian invaders had entered Greek territory "varying distances," and he added:

Bad Weather Blamed.

"The Italian advance failed to acquire lightning rhythm because of bad weather prevailing for several days and because of bad roads—swampy strips interrupted here and there by dynamite mines exploded by the Greek rear guard."

The Greeks, he said, were fighting with British and French artillery, rifles, ammunitions and warplanes.

Concrete British aid to the little Aegean kingdom took a two-fold spurt. Official circles in London confirmed that British troops now have landed on the Greek Isle of Crete, opposite the Italian Dodecanese Islands. The British poured $80,000,000 into Greece's defense coffers.

British naval assistance in striking at the Italian invasion was also indicated in sketchy reports of a sea battle Sunday evening west of the Island of Corfu, at the lower end of the Greek-Albanian frontier.

The Athens radio said that 30 minutes after firing at sea was heard "a large vessel was seen ablaze, steaming northward," toward Italian defense bases—indicating the ship was Italian.

Rome Air Raid Alarm.

At the same time, British RAF bombers, now presumably operating from Greek bases, caused an hour and 45-minute alarm in Rome—the Italian capital's first alert since July 24—and also attacked Naples again.

Mussolini's high command said the RAF raiders failed to reach Rome, although the capital's populace was awakened by the wail of air raid sirens at 3:45 a. m., and that the planes which attempted to bomb Naples were met 'by a barrage of anti-aircraft fire," forcing them to drop their bombs in the open countryside.

In Athens, authoritative quarters summed up the week-old conflict as "developing satisfactorily," and the semi-official Greek news agency asserted Italian claims of having penetrated the Greek defense line were "a tissue of scurrilus lies."

"The Italians talk of conquest of vast territories containing hundreds of thousands of inhabitants. In realty they are still being held in the frontier region where indeed certain points are already known to have been freed by the bayonets of the Greek army."

(Last week, the Itailians claimed to have advanced thirty-five miles in the Ioannina sector, capturing seventy-nine villages.)

Daring Venture.

Reports from Belgrade said Greek veterans, in a daring venture, crossed Lake Presba in small boats at night and fell upon an Italian garrison in Albanian territory.

The Italian high command again gave only the briefest mention of the Balkan war, asserting that five "enemy" planes were shot down in an air fight over Salonika.

Some observers saw the Italian invasion of Greece as only one phase of a four-point axis winter offensive:

1. An Italian campaign to seize Salonika and the Greek Isles.
2. An Italian drive toward the British naval base of Alexandria and the Suez Canal from the advance base at Sidi Barrani, sixty miles inside the Egyptian-Libyan border.
3. A German thrust through Bulgaria to aid Italy, aimed at undermining Greek defenses by striking at Macedonia.
4. A German attack on the Dardanelles, opening the gate to Turkey, Syria, Palestine and the Suez Canal.

Swiss reports linked the heavy Nazi concentration in Rumania with an expected meeting of Italian Foreign Minister Count Ciano, Nazi Foreign Minister von Ribbentrop, and Germany's Ambassador to Turkey, Franz von Papen.

Fascist Airmen Attacks Salonika.

Italian airmen continued to pound at Salonika, the Greek port at the north end of the Aegean Sea. Aided by Britain, Greece pitted her small air force against Italy to hammer at Fascist troop concentrations and supply depots along the Albanian frontier.

For the first time in eight weeks, London went all night without an air raid alarm, but low-flying German raiders machine-gunned Sunday daytime strollers, cyslists and motorists in East Anglia.

Soviet Russia rejected a British protest that Russia's present participation in negotiations with Germany, Italy and Rumania for a new Danube commission to administer the river trafficway constituted a violation of neutrality.

Authorized Nazi quarters in Berlin, countering rumors of a new peace move by Adolf Hitler, said all such talk was "made in England" and intended to influence the United States presidential elections tomorrow.

These quarters said the axis had no desire to offer England peace.

ELECTION

of 427 electoral votes for Mr. Roosevelt, but then upped his estimate last night to an undisclosed higher figure.

Republican National Chairman Martin claimed a Willkie minimum of 324 electoral votes — a comfortable margin over the 266 necessary for election.

Generally Good Weather

The weather bureau, forecasting in another field, saw generally fair weather for most of the country tomorrow, with the possibility of some light rain in some eastern and central sections. Rain on election day has long been credited with cutting down the vote in rural areas, but the advent of good country roads has made that belief less reliable than in the past.

Generally fair weather was expected to produce a record-breaking outpouring of some 50,000,000 voters. Computations place the number of eligible voters in the country at more than 60,000,000, but the usual percentage of stay-at-homes was expected. The previous vote record was in 1936, when 45,000,000 out of 55,000,000 eligibles cast ballots, giving President Roosevelt a plurality of almost 11,000,000.

While the fighting finish of the presidential campaign all but preempted popular attention, the ballots tomorrow will show a long list of national, state and local offices to be filled.

House and Senate

There are 35 seats in the U. S. senate to be filled, with 102 candidates. Ther are 432 house seats at stake, and 979 aspirants. There are 33 governorships for which a field of 102 are contending. There are a host of other state and local offices at issue.

The big interest in the congressional race is which party will emerge with control of the house of representatives. It is generally conceded that to upset the democratic majority in the senate would require a major political miracle, since the republicans would have to capture at least 3 out of the 5 seats in the "solid south."

With regard to the house, however, no one concedes anything. Republican Chairman Martin predicted his party would make a net gain of from 60 to 75 seats and take control.

The democratic counterclaim was "very little net change" in the present lineup.

Both major parties reported spending approximately the same amount of money on the general campaign from June 1 to Oct. 31, The republican national committee put its expenditures at $1,167,405, and the democratic national committee reported $1,200,508.

RETURNS

As rapidly as the vote is counted in each of the country's some 130,000 voting districts or precincts, it will be telephoned into a county headquarters, combined into county totals, which will in turn be flashed into state headquarters.

The state totals will pour over the wire as rapidly as they are struck off from lightning swift calculating machines, and will be assembled almost instantaneously in the Associated Press Washington bureau.

Veteran political writers will produce a steady stream of flashes, bulletins and complete articles giving the status of the returns throughout the night until the results are completed and conclusive for the president and the new congress.

Staff reporters with the candidates, at political headquarters and other strategic points, will immediately report significant or interesting sidelights.

Associated Press writers will tell only what happens, and what the figures show, and at no time during the tallying of the vote will they undertake to predict how the election is going. This rigid performance of their traditional function of accurate objective, non-partisan reporting of the news, prevented them from predicting the election of Hughes in 1916, when much of the country thought he had been chosen. In that close contest, it was not until 11:20 p.m. Thursday night that returns from remote areas of California showed that state had been carried by Wilson, winning him the election.

MASTER LISTS FOR SELECTIVE SERVICE RECEIVED BY BOARDS

Arrival of the master lists from the national lottery on selective service over the week end, started intensive work on the final preliminary stages of the preparations of the two Navarro county draft boards for the work of the next five years. Officials also reported 24 men had volunteered for immediate induction into training.

The master lists had to be checked for numbers applying to this county and a new local master list of order numbers prepared; the order numbers placed on the individual registration cards and questionnaire covers and all other lists of registrants. Secretaries of the two boards estimated the greater portion of the week would be required to complete the records necessary for future work.

To Notify Registrants.

As soon as the lists are completed, cards will be mailed to each registrant, giving him both his serial number and order numbers, and within a few days the first group of questionnaires are expected to be sent out. Up to the present time, the extensive and intricate forms have been given only those volunteering for immediate induction into service.

While no figures have been received on the actual quota for this county under the first call expected shortly after the middle of November, officials of the two boards indicated they believed they had sufficient volunteers to meet the first requirements. Registrants were also asked not to call at the local offices to check on their order numbers since official notification would be sent them as soon as possible, and any interference would only delay the work.

Volunteer for Service.

Up to Saturday afternoon a total of 24 persons had volunteered for immediate induction into service for one year and had been supplied with questionnaires, and a number of these documents had been returned. Twelve persons had volunteered to each board.

The volunteers included:

Board One.

Ira Lamar McMillan, Corsicana; John Franklin Reed, Barry; William Calvin Holloway, Corsicana; Doyle Clabe Moore, Corsicana; David Sowell Castles, Corsicana, and the following negroes: Ira Robinson, Leroy Washington, Jack Parish, Theadore Lofton, J. D. Price, Julius Richardson of Route 5, and Nathaniel Davis, all of Corsicana.

Board Two.

Philip Wayne Morris, Route 3, Kerens; Roy Christopher Cooper, Route 2, Dawson; Fred Vernon James, Route 2, Kerens; Ira Arnold, Richland; Jeptha Napoleon Edens, Rice; Johnnie Edwin Baldwin, Route 1, Purdon; Kiah Clay Hodges, Frost; Elmo Everett Brock, Rice, and William Freeman Ponder, Route 2, Frost; and the following negroes: Pershing Deward Clopton, Route 2, Kerens; Johnnie Watson, Powell.

LOCAL RED CROSS MEMBERS ATTENDED DALLAS CONVENTION

INTERESTED WOMEN DERIVE MUCH BENEFIT FROM INFORMATIVE PROGRAM

Mesdames R. B. Mitchell, Hawkins Scarborough, W. W. Carter, Kirk Steele and W. R. Cross formed a congenial party to attend the American Red Cross regional conference held at the Baker Hotel in Dallas, Friday.

At the morning session, held in Room 1 on the mezzanine floor, Paul Danna, a former Dallas chapter chairman, presided. John C. Wilson, assistant to the manager of the Midwestern area, St. Louis, and Mrs. Allen B. Hannay, volunteer service chairman of Harris county chapter, Houston, were the principal speakers. Their subjects were "The Red Cross War Relief Program" and "Chapter Production for War Relief," respectively.

Mr. Wilson's discussion was most informational, with first-hand facts on the subject and Mrs. Hannay's detailed explanation of the Houston and Harris county set-up for chapter production was especially interesting to the many volunteer sewers and knitters present.

Movie films, "Mobilized for Mercy" and the 1940 Roll Call trailer, which the Navarro county chapter has secured for the local picture shows, during the annual Roll Call period, Nov. 11-30, were shown during the morning and were quite impressive.

During the luncheon session on Peacock Terrace, Wm. J. Brown, chairman of the Dallas chapter, presided; Dr. David Lefkowitz gave the invocation and H. J. Hughes, assistant to the national chairman, Hon. Norman H. Davis, Washington, D. C., gave the main address of the day, "The Red Cross Prepares for Defense." Mr. Hughes was introduced by Hon. Will R. Harris of Dallas. A clever feature of the luncheon entertainment was a style show in which volunteers of Dallas and their children modeled the war relief garments.

Speakers for the afternoon session included B. F. McLain, serving his second year as Roll Call chairman of the Dallas chapter who gave an able discussion on "Planning the Roll Call," Mrs. Roy Elliott Smith of Tyler, who spoke on "Roll Call and Public Information," and Edwin A. Bebb of Wichita Falls, whose subject was "Securing and Training Roll Call Workers."

Mrs. Edith Hennessey, field director of this area, was present and expressed her appreciation of the Navarro county representation.

MILK AND CREAM MASK.

Home beauty masks are more and more favored by those women who realize they mus do something more than cleanse, tone and lubricate their skins each night; and who cannot afford the time or the money to visit beauty salons.

Rest your eyes at the same time

Lana Turner, the M-G-M beauty, soon to appear in "Ziegfeld Girl," has a favorite one which she uses three times a week to offset the effects of heavy make-ups while working under the strong lights. Miss Turner takes her soft cold cream and adds mink to it to form a paste. After the skin has been properly cleansed, she applies this mask over the throat and face, and allows it to remain there for a period of 15 minutes—or more, if she has the time.

When you use it, plan to relax while the mask is on the face. Lie down, and put pads on the eyes. Make thees pads out of little squares of cotton which have been wet with eye lotion, or your tonic, and then dipped in the milk.

Think of dark, soothing, swaying objects to help release tensions in the body. After your rest period, remove the mask, and pat the skin briskly with your tonic. Apply your make-up and you will be glowing and lovely for the evening.

to accept such terms.

Peace under an arrangement like that couldn't be lasting. It would in reality represent a stalemate and war would blaze again.

Hitler has sworn time and again to destroy the British empire.

Only a fortnight ago British Premier Churchill declared this as his country's war-aim:

"We seek to beat the life and soul out of Hitler and Hitlerism—that alone."

That's what this war amounts to—a struggle between Hitler and the British empire. One or the other is going to disappear from the picture.

Anyway, while England has a tough row to hoe, the going just now seems to me to be considerable more promising than it was a while back. Making predictions in this mad war is like crossing Niagara Falls on a tight-rope, but I venture to say it's far from sure that Mussolini didn't confer a great boon on Britain when he lashed out at Greece.

Instead of achieving a blitzkrieg, as they expected, the fascists have tossed priceless bases into England's lap, thereby going a long way towards nullifying their efforts.

If England can make capita out of this situation she may win the active support of Russia and Turkey. Meanwhile, Hitler is straining every nerve to pull these countries into his camp, and success would be a sad blow to Britain.

CONGRESS

tin of Massachusetts, house republican leader and national committee head, forecast a net gain of from 60 to 75 seats with only 48 needed for a republican majority of 218 of the total membership of 435. Martin probably would become speaker if his party should win the house.

The democratic majority in the senate is considered safe. To gain control in that branch—49 seats—republicans first would have to keep their present strength unimpaired at 24 seats by holding the 8 of those seats contested for tomorrow and then they would have to win either all the 25 democratic seats at stake, or 23 of the democratic seats plus the single farmer-labor and progressive memberships.

Five of the democratic seats to be voted on are in the "solid south" and holders of two of these—Senators Charles I. Andrews of Florida, and Theodore G. Bilbo of Mississippi—have no opposition.

Many Candidates.

A total of 1,081 candidates are running for 467 senate and house seats—102 for 35 senate places and 979 for 432 house memberships.

The total senate membership is 96. Under the constitution. One third of this number—32—come up for election to fill six-year terms every two years. Maine picked her full-term senator last Sept. 9, Ralph O. Brewster, a republican, leaving 31 in this category for tomorrow's balloting.

In addition, four unexpired senate terms will be filled tomorrow.

The present senate party lineup is 69 democrats, 24 republicans, 1 progressive, 1 farmer-labor, and 1 independent. The 35 seats at stake tomorrow are now held by 25 democrats, 8 republicans, 1 progressive, and 1 farmer-labor.

The existing house membership is composed of 258 democrats, 167 republicans, 2 progressives, 1 farmer-labor, and 1 American labor. There are six vacancies—three democratic and three republican—also to be filled tomorrow.

Only 432 of the 435 house seats are being voted on as Maine elected her three last September—all republicans.

Dawson Garden Club Members Furnished Program in Kerens

KERENS, Nov. 4.—(Spl.)—The Kerens Garden Club enjoyed a rare treat at their last regular Thursday meeting, when members of the Dawson Garden Club came over and furnished a most delightful program.

Mrs. H. J. Newsom, president of the local club, presided at the business session and afterward asked Mrs. H. A. Quaite to describe outstanding flower arrangements noted at the flower show recently promoted by one of the Dallas Garden clubs, at which she was one of the judges.

Mrs. C. C. Turner of Dawson (who will be remembered by Kerens folk as Miss Katherine McCluney) charmed all with her informal talk on "The Art of Making Friends."

Mrs. J. L. McCulloch, Dawson, then favored members and guests with a vocal solo, which was accorded prolonged applause.

Concluding number by Mrs. R. L. Waller, Dawson, was a beautifully rendered piano number, after which the three hostesses, Mrs. W. L. Bain, Sr., at whose home the enjoyable meeting was held; Mrs. S. J. Jennings and Mrs. Roy Cloud, served a salad course with Russian tea.

Kerens Flower Show.

KERENS, Nov. 4.—(Spl.)—The Kerens Garden Club has announced its annual fall flower show will be held at the home of Mrs Earl Seale on November 14. The date will also be guest day and each club will be privileged to invite one guest. All entries must be in place by 11 a. m. on the 14th.

Each exhibitor is expected to display her exhibit and to be responsible for same. After visiting the flower show, members and guests will attend a tea in the home of Mrs. H. A. Quaite, with Mrs. H. J. Newsome, Mrs. Brook Smith and Mrs. Finis McCluney co-hostesses.

ITALY AND MILDRED STILL LEAD DISTRICT 21-B GRID DIVISIONS

Several conference tussles and traditional contests not involving the standings are scheduled in District 21-B Friday afternoon and night.

Italy Galdiators are leading the A division while Mildred Eagles continue to set the pace in the B circles. Italy nosed out the Kerens Bobcats, 7-0, in their A melee last week. This was the closest score the Gladiators have been held this season, and represented the best game played by the defending Bi-District Champion Bobcats who have been losing numerous tilts during the fall.

Dawson and Trinidad will meet at Dawson in a non-conference attraction.

Milford will invade Mildred for a B game.

Blooming Grove and Frost clash at Frost in the annual tilt. The outcome does not figure in the standing, but it is the big game of the year for both combinations. Frost was idle last week preparing for the Lions while Blooming Grove was absorbing a 14-0 setback at the hands of Trinidad in a non-conference tilt. Blooming Grove has completed the district A schedule with three wins and one loss.

Italy has an open date this week unless a non-conference game is arranged.

Hubbard Jaguars entertains the Kerens eleven at Hubbard in an A division contest. Kerens downed Hubbard last year and the previous season.

Last Week's Results:

Mildred 14, Hubbard 0.
Waco B 25, Dawson 6.

to determine whether any of the seven passengers or crew of three had survived the crack-up.

He said the plane was in a canyon on the south side of 7,000 foot Bountiful Peak.

Officials said ground parties would be unable to reach the scene for several hours due to heavy snow which blanketed the area last night.

Haws reported the plane appeared to "be pretty well together. They may still be alive."

He said "I couldn't get close because the clouds shielded the peaks."

The plane, en route from San Francisco to Salt Lake City, made its last report from an 8,000 foot elevation over Layton, some 15 miles northwest of the scene of the crash, at 4:40 a. m.

The craft, apparently lost, drifted into the mountain country and attempted a forced landing or struck the mountainside at normal flying speed.

TEXAS VOTE

bolt. Agriculture groups throughout the state staged rallies for Corry and Martin treked around South Texas.

Texas counted 842,538 ballots in the last general election and competing parties freely predicted a bigger vote tomorrow. Absentee balloting most everywhere shattered that of four years ago, a possible indication of a big turnout tomorrow.

McDonald, reiterating his advocacy of the Willkie-McNary "constructive" farm program, said many farmers had expressed appreciation of his stand.

"As the greatest agricultural state in the union, Texas should join in the procession of its sister states and have a major part in the victory of a national ticket dedicated to the restoration of a free and prosperous agriculure," he asserted.

Kerens Newspaper Changes Editorship

KERENS, Nov. 1.—(Spl.)—The Kerens Tribune assumed new ownership with the Nov. 1 issue, with co-editors, Ed and Bedford Bateman in charge.

The Messrs. Bateman, who succeed Representative James E. Taylor as editor and publisher, have this week moved to Kerens from Dallas, and have, with Mrs. Ed Bateman, taken an apartment with Mrs. Eula Barlow.

Teague and Ennis Are Favored to Win In District 16-A

Two important District 16-A conference games are scheduled this week when State Home invades Teague and Ennis goes to Groesbeck. Ferris plays a non-district engagement at Forney.

While Ennis has been the preseason and early-season favorite to repeat, the performance of the sensational Teague Lions has caused considerable thought among the Ennis supporters. Following a crushing 55-0 decision over the Groesbeck Goats, the Teague team smacked the McGregor Bulldogs, 32-0, after that club had won about 16 games in a row, including a bi district decision last year over Ennis' great ball club. This was the first setback for McGregor since the 1938 season.

The State Home Lads are not expected to trim Teague. Ferris will be the favorite over Forney while Ennis is not expected to be extended by Groesbeck.

Mildred Eagles Won Over Hubbard 14-0

HUBBARD, Tex., Nov. 2.—(Spl.)—Mildred High Eagles presented a powerful attack here Friday afternoon to defeat the Hubbard Jaguars, 14-0.

Fields passed to Hargin for 25 yards and the latter scampered the remaining 25 for the first score in the second period. A fumble paved the way for the second touchdown in the third when the Eagles recovered on the Hubbard 5-yard stripe. Mildred passed for both points after touchdown.

GREECE

Greek defense positions in 15 consecutive bomb raids that preceded the infantry attack.

The region of the reported successful Greek counter-attack is north of the Kalamas river, near the coast, where Italian forces were said to have made their only gains. A lieutenant colonel commanding fascist troops on this front was reported killed.

Emanuele Grazzi, Italian minister to Greece, still has not requested his passport, it was disclosed, but has been aked by the Greek government to leave. Some sources expressed belief he was afraid to return to Italy because it is reported that he advised Premier Mussolini that Greece would accept the Italian ultimatum and surrender without a fight.

Greek Cities Bombed.

Elsewhere, Greek cities were bombed. Homes were hit in Salonika, where Greek anti-aircraft gunners were credited with bringing down three Italian planes yesterday. Civilian casualties were reported.

(British Exchange Telegraph Company reports from Yugoslavia said Greek mountain troops had pushed seven miles into Albania, encircling Koritza, whose fall was "expected momentarily," and taking 1,200 Italian prisoners.)

A Greek communique said before the end of the first week of Italian invasion Greek bayonet attacks on this northeastern flank of the battlefront slashed slightly more than three miles into Albania and drove Italians out of fortified positions.

Only sketchy details of a sea fight off Corfu were contained in telegraph reports from the horn-shaped island off the Greek-Albanian coast.

The engagement was said to have taken place west of the island at 8 p.m. Sunday (1 p.m. EST) and the Athens radio said that half an hour after the firing was heard "a large vessel was seen ablaze, steaming northward."

The semi-official Greek news agency termed Italian claims to have penetrated through the Greek line "a tissue of scurrilous lies" and added:

"The Italians talk of conquest of vast territories containing hundreds of thousands of inhabitants when in reality they are still being held in the frontier region where, indeed, certain points are already known to have been freed by the bayonets of the Greek army."

Italy continued heavy air attacks Sunday against Greek ports and inland cities behind the battlefront and along supply routes north from Athens.

The Greek air force, possibly supported by British planes, countered with raids at Italian bases.

The Greeks reported shooting down four Italian planes and losing two of their own in air fights Saturday.

The Greek high command said Italian bombers caused no damage to military objectives and reported unestimated additional civilian casualties.

Reports from Salonika said the port city was attacked twice yesterday and three Italian planes were shot down. Carditsa also was raided.

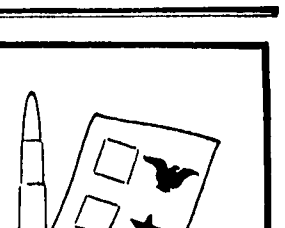
Ballots* vs. *Bullets



The issue before the world is this – can the force of dictator-controlled nations destroy democratic government? In other words, are bullets (the voice of the dictator) or ballots (the voice of a free people) stronger?

Because the strength of a democracy is in the thoughtful votes of its people, you have a patriotic responsibility to vote on election day.

TURKEY RAISERS INVITED TO MEET AT MILDRED HIGH

MATTER OF BUNCHING TURKEYS FOR MARKET WILL BE DISCUSSED THURSDAY NIGHT

Turkey raisers have been invited to meet at the Mildred high school Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock to discuss bunching turkeys for the market, according to an announcement by A. P. Coston, vocational agriculture teacher for the Mildred school.

All growers of turkeys are requested to attend and help plan a day on which to bring in the birds. Farmers of other communities are invited.

Several buyers have agreed to be present. It is understood the birds will be graded and weighed, insuring the producers of getting the best price possible. The buyers also are interested as considerable time and trouble will be saved if it is decided to bring the birds to one central point. The buyers will not be required to hunt over the community to get the birds and this will be reflected in higher bids, it was indicated.

McDonald's Opponent

W. N. (BILL) CORRY

Drafted by a statewide mass meeting of Texas democrats to run as a "Roosevelt democrat" write-in candidate to oppose the re-election of Agr. Commr. J. E. McDonald, who despite his nomination as a democrat, last week endorsed the candidacy of Wendell Willkie, Bill Corry of Tarrant county, is putting on a whirlwind campaign. He has the endorsement of Texas county judges and leading farm and ranch organizations and democratic leaders throughout the state. The Waco meeting in a resolution declared McDonald had forfeited any right to democratic party support and named Corry as the "instrument of Texas democracy to remove 'Willkie-crat" from Texas politics. Corry was runner-up against McDonald in the July primary and refused to be a candidate until drafted by the Waco meeting. Judge C. C. Randle of Ellis county was named as Corry's campaign manager.

Mitchell, executive secretary of the local Red Cross, announced Monday that 335 yards of woolen fabrics for children's drésses and five pounds of black wool for women's shawls had been received; from the government, and Mrs. W. D. Cross, chairman of chapter production would be busy this week contacting the various church and other organizations that had accepted assignments of sewing and knitting on the chapter's quota for war reliev.

Receipt of numerous other government bills of lading by the executive secretary indicates that a large shipment of cotton material is en route to Corsicana and may be received at any time. This is for the completion of baby layettes, the chapter's quota being seventy-five.

As neither Mrs. Mitchell nor Mrs. Cross have cars and the work requires countless visits and entirely too much walking, volunteers for transportation will be greatly appreciated.
